De Vere return with their third offering 'Dead Before I Die' via all streaming services on 2nd February 2024.

The haunting, heavy, orchestral-laden track provides a glimpse into the band's wider exploration of all things loud. A brief departure from their previous high energy releases, 'Dead Before I Die' is an epic behemoth boasting a roaring, emotive vocal masterclass, virtuoso guitars and live cinematic string arrangement.

Lead vocalist Sammy Cassidy says:

"'Dead Before I Die' is about that one insidious voice in your head. The one you fear most, the voice that wants you dead. It's silent, most of the time. But it never goes away, it's always there, like a spider nestled in a crack, waiting for the day life leads you astray, into the dark caverns of your mind."

De Vere have sold out multiple London headline shows and played to thousands at Download Festival generating an under the radar buzz amongst their newfound loyal following. Produced by the band's Brit nominated bassist Will Vaughan (Dorian Electra, James Arthur, Oliver Tree), and Charlie Russell (Wargasm, AltJ, Kasabian).

'Dead Before I Die' is released on all streaming platforms on 2nd February 2024
